WHAT TO WATCH FOR THIS WEEKEND:

DARIO LOOKS TO CONTINUE SURGE:

Dario Franchitti has started defense of his IZOD IndyCar Series title slowly, but looks to have turned his season around after winning the 96th Indianapolis 500. Franchitti, who won at Belle Isle in 1999, has climbed to sixth in the championship after strong finishes in Brazil and Indy. Can he continue his march towards a fourth-straight series title with another win in Detroit?

SECOND-GENERATION STARS: The latest generation from two of open-wheel racing's most familiar families comes to Belle Isle in hopes of adding to the family legacy. Marco Andretti — the grandson of racing legend Mario Andretti and son of two-time Detroit winner Michael Andretti — hopes to give his father's team its second win at Belle Isle. Another son hoping to return family name to Victory Lane is Graham Rahal. The son of inaugural Belle Isle winner Bobby Rahal returns to the Service Central Chip Ganassi Racing Honda hoping to win the race's return to Belle Isle.
